We know you have many di erent options when it comes to choosing a location to hold your next meeting or event. At Adelphi, when you choose our campus and put your trust in us, we take that responsibility very seriously.

Nestled in the Village of Garden City, one of the safest neighborhoods on Long Island, our campus is the perfect place for any youth program. In addition to our dedicated team of Public Safety O icers that patrol the campus 24-7, all sta that work meetings and events go through annual safety training and emergency response and are especially attuned to the unique challenges of working with youth in a campus environment. We o er many structured activities for youth to complement your program agenda and keep your participants busy, as well as large lawns and outdoor fields for group activities, team building, and just burning o some of that youthful energy.

Additionally, our campus is welcoming to all individuals, having won an Excellence in Diversity award the past four years, and achieving a perfect 5-star rating for Campus Pride due to support for the LGBTQIA+ community. When you are at Adelphi, you are a valued member of our community.jb--q 5.11.636 TdS(w)10

A university campus is the perfect setting for a youth program. As a university dedicated to educating students, providing them with cultural and fine arts experiences, and o ering the best in recreational and athletic spaces, we have world-class facilities of all types and sizes in one easily walkable location. Your attendees can utilize our wide variety of classrooms, auditoriums, multi-purpose ballrooms, performance and workshop venues, outdoor fields, and even our athletic facilities to foster growth and personal exploration. Many of our facilities have been recently renovated to include new furnishings, updated technology, and sustainable building systems that are environmentally friendly and reduce the university's carbon footprint, including the new Ruth S. Harley University Center, completed in 2021.

Technology is a cornerstone of education today, and our facilities reflect that. The entire campus is covered by a secure Wi-Fi network, easily accessible by your attendees. Our smart classrooms and auditoriums feature teaching islands connected to video projection and sound systems, making it easy to give multimedia presentations to presentations from your laptop or downloaded materials. Audio-visual of all types can be provided in any of the multi-purpose spaces or unique meeting rooms on campus, or in the concert hall and performance theaters. Rest assured, we provide service and support throughout your entire event to ensure that things run smoothly, and that the technology supports individual learning instead of distracting from it.
